

The South Africa Cookbook

May, Sweden - South Africa

The Embassy is working with ICA to produce a cookbook for the Nordic region. The idea is to use South African ingredients available in the region, in preparing some South African dishes. Such a cookbook is in demand as some people have travelled to South Africa and experienced South African food and cuisines. The book will also make an impact on tourism promotion. A team of 5 journalists from food magazines will visit South Africa to look at a variety of recipes and places attractive for tourism.
